N. ADJOURN

11/19.2017

Dear Committee,

Several years ago, I started a personal campaign to recognize Pueblo soldiers that are still MIA (Missing in Action) during Vietnam and Korea. I'm sure there are more MIA's. In the beginning I was researching information about Pueblo soldiers killed in Vietnam. While doing so I discovered that there were those STILL missing in action and either assumed to be prisoners of war or missing in action (POW/MIA), of course all are presumed dead. Of those missing one remains have been found and repatriated and buried at Arlington National Cemetery in the 1990's.

Pueblo, being the Home of the Heroes and honoring our four Medal of Honor recipients I felt it would be an excellent idea to build a memorial in honor of Pueblo's MIA's and particularly their families. I have a 14-page document outlining each soldier and how they went missing per military records.

I have made to the HARP officers, Lynn Clark and Jim Munch who were kind enough to listen to my presentation and in fact liked the idea very much, but it just died there. I also made a presentation to a PURA secretary, Ms. Andrea DeLaGarza in hopes I could gain an audience to further this idea. Ms. DeLaGarza suggested I contact Paula Stuart and proceed from there. I also had two separate stories published in the Pueblo Chieftain about these missing Pueblo soldiers.

Sadly, my exposure to Agent Orange in Vietnam finally took its toll causing kidney failure in 2011 forcing me to go on kidney dialysis in Sept. of 2012, effectively slowing down my effort to a complete halt, until now. I'm hoping a location for such a memorial will soon be found so that these missing soldiers will be remembered, and their families will have a place to visit, reflect and possibly begin to heal.
